STATOTHR

I was delighted to read in your letter that you were coming to the United States the end of November. It will be the greatest pleasure to see you, and as far as I know, I shall be right here in Washington during the period of your visit.

I would suggest that when you arrive, you give me a telephone call on [redacted] here in Washington, and then we can fix a definite time at our mutual convenience.

STATINTL

Admiral Strauss, as you will have seen from the press today, has moved over to be Secretary of Commerce. His place has been taken by an old friend of mine, John McCone, and if I can be of any help with an introduction to him, it will be a pleasure to do so.

Faithfully yours,

(Signed) ALLEN W. DULLES
